

Come, Talk with Me

♩ = 95

Voice

1. Come, talk with me, and I will lis - ten to your voice.
 2. Come, talk with me, and list - ten to my voice.
 3. Come, walk with me, and we will join our voice - es.

- E - ven if you speak a lan - guage I don't know, some - how I'll
 - E - ven if I speak a lan - guage you don't know, some - how you'll 7 E - ven if we speak a lan - guage no one knows, some - one will un - der - stand. Come, talk with me, and I will see your sto - ry un - der - stand. Come, talk with me, and you will see my sto - ry un - der - stand. Come, walk with me, and we will see the sto - ry

- writ - ten in your eyes, writ - ten in the lines of your face and hands.
 - writ - ten in my eyes, writ - ten in the lines of my face and hands.
 - writ - ten in their eyes, ev - 'ry - bod - y's eyes, all a -

- You are a per - son just like me: Life cuts you, and you bleed; life
 - I am a per - son just like you: Sometimes scared and con - fused, just holds you, and you weep for joy. We seem so dif - ferent, you and I, but try - in' to make it through. We seem so dif - ferent, you and I, but we lis - ten to our sighs, and see the hope shi - ning out from our eyes.

 both come from the sky and to the sky we will fly when we die.

⊕ CODA

cross the land, a - cross the land, a - cross the land.